

Alfix is active during the current outbreak of coronavirus

At Alfix, we naturally comply with the strategy and recommendations from the Danish Government and the Danish Health Authority.

A great part of our employees is working from home, and internal at the company we have facilitated a number of important measures and responsible precautions in order to guard safety and health of the entire staff.

The factory in Kolding is currently up and running to its full capacity, and our warehouse operatives, production staff and lab employees work dedicatedly and persistently in order to keep up with demands. This also applies to production management. We still produce and supply Alfix products from Kolding, and we are very busy doing so – luckily.

We look forward to receiving and handling customer enquiries by phone, mail or otherwise. We are ready to serve you from our Administration, Service Technical Department and Sales Team. Any other external Alfix employee is also available for contact.

In joint co-operation, Team Alfix will seek to offer our customers and business partner the best possible service and support this spring. We continuously aim to establish and uphold ASSURANCE for our Danish and sustainable product systems.

Let us protect each other – by keeping social distance. But we should also continue to assist and help each other and the building trade through this Corona pandemic – in a constructive, safe and responsible manner.

Best regards

Anders Bertelsen Toft – director (CCO)
